

Rotary Melbourne and Leadership Victoria

Present:

Harnessing the power of the marketplace to change the world.

Guest Speaker:
Matthew Taylor

Matthew is a collaborative leader who works across sectors and disciplines to drive social innovation and entrepreneurship. He is committed to individual and collective action to make a difference in the world.

Drawing on experiences from the frontier of policy and practice, this event will explore how businesses, governments and individual consumers are harnessing the power of the marketplace to build a more inclusive and sustainable future.

Matthew is the managing director of MET Designs, a not-for-profit social enterprise that aims to transform lives through education. He is also a policy manager at the Victorian Government and a member of the Global Shapers Community (an initiative of the World Economic Forum).
